BIGAMOUS WIFE DEAD, HE SENUS WORD OF SUICIDE

Tragedies in Marital Mixup of Jacob Gordon, Traveling Salesman.

KNOWN DEAD.

Mrs. JACOB GORDON No. 2, formerly Miss Julia Duff, of Hoboken, N. J. REPORTED DEAD.

JACOB GORDON, a travelling salesman, fugitive from a bigamy charge, last heard from in Washington, D. C. PROSTRATED.

Mrs. JACOB GORDON No. 1, of No. 102 East Seventy-fifth street, Manhat- White Golf Skirts. New

With the appearancel to-day of Mrs. Jacob Gordon No. 1 a. the Police Headquarters of Hoboken, N. J., bearing a letter written by her husband yesterday from Washington, D. C., was brought to light the facts in a domestic tragedy, with its climaxes falling upon recent civic holidays.

"My husband," said Mrs. Gordon to Chief of Police Hayes, "writes me that he will be dead when his letter gets into my hands. He wants to have his body brought from Washington, D. C., and buried at the side of the poor girl of your city whom he deceived and married last December, and who only died a few days ago." Mrs. Gordon No. 1 and her husband. it appears, had never been divorced. ding upon the woman'. tion, Chief Hayes sent a telegram to the Washington police authorities calling upon them to locate Gordon, known to be in that city, and place him under arrest. May and place known to be in that city, and place him under arrest. Mrs. Gordon No. 1 then fainted and had to be removed to her Manhathan home in a carriage.

Gordon is a travelling salesman, and until last December is said to have lived with his wife at No. 12 East Seventy-inth street. He disappeared from his home, and Mrs. Gordon called apai the police to locate him.

Meantime, a main named Jacob Gordon, also a travelling salesman, was paying attentions to Miss Juda Dun, of No. 613 Whow avenue, Hoboven, Their courtship resulted in a determination on the part of Gordon to renomine the Jewish fatta. This move quite cape Grace.

Gordon after returning from his honeymoon continued his former employment as a travelling salesman and was usually absent from his home four days out of the week.

On St. Patrick's Pay there was a caller at the Gordon home in Hoooken. The drummer was away and his wife whowed to the strange lady making inshowed it is my opinion that the employment of such a large number of individuals as are employed by the

WHO IS MAN BETWEEN"

HE young and beautiful wife of the Rev. Basil Stanhope, Rector of the announced her purpose of seeking a divorce.

WHY?

Because she believes, with George Meredith, the great English author, that a marriage should not be contracted for a lifetime, but for a limited period of years. The sensation in society may be imagined!

BUT "THE MAN BETWEEN?"

His identity can only be learned by reading the great novel of that title by
